CTLS SEMINAR 1

Faculty of Automatic Control and Computer Science

Tutor: Simona Mazilu, PhD

simona.mazilu@upb.ro

WRITING YOUR PROFILE FOR A JOB

I. ANALYSIS of various job/internship ads (e.g. https://www.indeed.com/q-Computer-Science-Internship-jobs.html):

- description of the company: type, industry, values;
- basic requirements of the position: hard skills, soft skills, +/- experience, personal qualities of the candidate;
- extra requirements: any other valuable personal qualities/skills/qualifications of the candidate viewed as a plus.

WRITING YOUR PROFILE FOR A JOB

- VOCABULARY:

- Attractive package: salary + fringe benefits/perks = advantages or something extra - money and goods such as company car, phone, health insurance etc. you are given because of your job.
- To have good command of English/German/C/Java etc.
- A salary commensurate with one's qualifications/experience etc.
- To meet/fulfil/satisfy the requirements

WRITING YOUR PROFILE FOR A JOB

II. WRITING A PROFILE starting from the job requirements:
- 3 main categories of KEYWORDS to be included in a profile:

1) PERSONAL QUALITIES: creative, innovative, hard-working, industrious, active, energetic, dynamic, goal-oriented, detail-oriented, results-oriented, ambitious, persevering, determined, curious, inquisitive, adaptable, flexible, committed, effective, efficient, motivated, organized, professional, proficient, qualified, successful etc.

WRITING YOUR PROFILE FOR A JOB

2) SKILLS AND QUALIFICATIONS: educational background (e.g. Bachelor Degree in Computer Science (if a graduate) / Computer Science Student (if an undergraduate) etc.), hard skills (e.g. advanced C++ skills etc.), soft skills (e.g. excellent teamwork skills etc.).

3) EXPERIENCE (if any, depending on the age of the candidate).

+ any EXTRA skills/qualifications/personal qualities needed for the job.

WRITING YOUR PROFILE FOR A JOB

- A useful example:

A creative, detail-oriented and hard-working software engineer, passionate about cloud technologies, with 10 years of experience in software support, fluent in English and French, with excellent communication and interpersonal skills, searching for a Technical Support Engineer position where to apply and further develop my professional abilities in a stimulating and competitive team and contribute to the growth of the organization.

WRITING YOUR PROFILE FOR A JOB

III. ASSIGNMENT

In no more than one paragraph, write your own profile for the job /internship you have chosen, including keywords for your personal qualities, hard skills and soft skills.